

Press Release

Hemex and Avanti Europe announce new partnership

HEMEX is delighted to announce an exciting new partnership with Avanti Europe. The Avanti Europe team is a specialist consultancy and expert knowledge provider. This partnership will allow us to complete the range of products we provide to healthcare start-ups to ensure we continue offering excellent support within the life science industry.

- Process Management, Verification, Validation, and Qualification services will be added to enhance product development.
- Technical Design such as prototyping, simulations, technical drawings, and specifications will be just some of the add-ons start-ups will have access to throughout their technical product development.

Basel, Switzerland, 7 April 2021 – HEMEX is thrilled to be able to present new services which complement our pipeline offering. Collaborating with Avanti Europe enables HEMEX to offer additional solutions to life science start-ups. New packages, which will be included in HEMEX's services offering, will allow start-ups to find optimal combinations that work best for them. Avanti Europe's services extend beyond conventional consultancy, by providing support for companies with a "hands-on" approach.

Among the new offerings, there are great advantages for product development and specifications, such as process management, verification & validation as well as process and equipment qualification. HEMEX currently offers many pre- and post-market Regulatory Affairs services, with the Avanti Europe team strengthening our post-market offerings. HEMEX can also assist with SME/SBD status applications and can facilitate consultations with European and US regulatory bodies. Furthermore, part-time QP (Qualified Person) expertise can also be provided for GMP manufacturing license holders.

In addition, technical design such as prototyping, simulations, technical drawings, and specifications are just some of the tasks which the Avanti Europe team can also support with. This is a unique offering and therefore the HEMEX team are very happy to be able to expand our offering to start-ups in this specific field. Finally, innovation and support in knowledge management to novel application forms, new platforms, or ground-up product development will also be introduced.

HEMEX has a particularly strong focus on providing full-service offerings and has expertise in serving companies in the medical devices, in-vitro diagnostics, and the pharmaceuticals industry. Avanti Europe brings additional expertise in combination products, cosmetics and the food industry enabling HEMEX to support a wide variety of start-ups.

«We strongly believe in the powerful notion of extensive partnership and collaboration. With Avanti Europe as our partner, we expand our Regulatory Affairs offering and add professional expertise on technical product development», said Pascal Winnen, CEO of HEMEX.

«With HEMEX as our partner, we fill the gap for clinical support and extend our services from idea to post-market surveillance and beyond », said Fabio Cirillo, CEO of Avanti Europe.

We are proud to welcome the Avanti Europe team as our newest partner as we continue to grow and serve new Life Science businesses with the expertise and knowledge they need to succeed.

Get in touch with us today to find out more about our range of exciting new packages! We offer a free-of-charge initial meeting to find best-tailored solutions to ensure our customers can benefit in the best possible way.
